INTRODUCTION

Starting school is an important step for all children. If your child has a disability or developmental delay, there are extra things for you to think about in preparing for that step.

Good planning helps to make smooth transition for all children.

This booklet contains information on a range of school options. It suggests points to consider when you are deciding what best suits your child. It will also help you decide what sort of support your child needs at school.

The school will work with you to plan for your child’s schooling.

As the family, you will decide which options are best. This booklet will help you in making that decision.
SCHOOL OPTIONS

Government Primary Schools

All children have a right to enrol at their local primary school.

Schools develop educational programs, which aim to meet the individual needs of children. If a child has one or more of the following disabilities there may be additional support available:

- Physical disability
- Visual Impairment
- Severe Behaviour Disorder
- Hearing Impairment
- Intellectual Disability
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Severe Language Disorder with Critical Educational Needs
Government Specialist Schools and Specialist Programs

There are a range of specialist schools and programs located across Gippsland with particular eligibility criteria. Whether a child is able to attend a specialist school will depend on the nature of his or her educational needs and the enrolment policy of the school.

Catholic Primary Schools

All Catholic children have the right to be educated at their local parish primary school. Additional support may be available to meet your child’s educational needs.

The Commonwealth Government provides funding which is distributed through the Catholic Education Office to support Catholic schools to include children with disabilities.

Independent Schools

Each school determines its own curriculum and programs, discipline policies, employment of staff and management of resources.

Many independent schools have trained special education staff able to provide individual and small group assistance to students with special needs. Additionally, the inclusion of students with disabilities is actively supported.

Supplementary funding may be available from the Commonwealth, distributed through the Association for Independent Schools.

NB: Due to the differing arrangements between individual schools it is imperative that you discuss your child’s needs with your school of choice.
When will my child start school?

If your child will be five years old (5 yrs) by 30 April of the year of school entry, they are eligible to start school.

Some parents choose to defer starting their children at school until the year they turn 6. Research indicates that the older children are, the more likely they will be able to cope with the learning expectations and the demands of both primary and secondary schooling.

A number of factors influence a child’s readiness to start school. School readiness encompasses appropriate maturity across the areas of social, emotional, physical, self-care, language, and intellectual development.

Talk to your Kindergarten Teacher/Childcare professional about your child’s development, prior to making a decision about starting school.

Children are eligible for a second year of kindergarten, if the teacher assesses the child as having delays in at least two areas of development and that the child will benefit from a second year of kindergarten. The areas assessed are self care, the ability to speak and/or understand language, intellectual, social and emotional development. Others factors may also be considered.

For children who will turn 6 during their kindergarten year/s a school exemption must be obtained from the Regional Director, Department Education and Early Childhood Development. This applies whether it is a Government, Catholic or Independent school. (See Appendix 1 - School Exemption Application)

If you require further information contact:
- your Kindergarten Teacher/Childcare professional
- your Pre School Field Officer
- or Department Education and Early Childhood Development - Gippsland.
When should I start to plan?

Most parents think about choices for some time before enrolling their child at school.

For children with a developmental delay or disability, it is recommended that you start planning approximately twelve to eighteen months before your child is due to start school. This allows you time to decide on a school and then work with the school to plan the support and program that best meet the needs of your child.

Transition to School planning should form part of Early Childhood Intervention Services planning and may not be the total responsibility of parents. (See page 21 for further information about Early Childhood Intervention Services)

Planning should start no later than during term 2 of the year prior to starting school.

How do I plan?

Planning may include:

- Finding out what schools your child could attend.
- Talking to people who know your child. For example, your early intervention worker, kindergarten teacher or childcare worker.
- Talking to other parents whose children have already started school.
- Contacting the schools to find out what programs and supports are available.
- Attending any information sessions that may be provided by schools and/or early childhood services to discuss preparing for school.
- Choosing a school best suited to your child at this stage.
- Working with the school to identify your child's needs and to plan appropriate support.
GATHERING INFORMATION

How do I know what schools are available?

Schools often provide information about their programs and facilities through local kindergartens/childcare services. If your child attends kindergarten or childcare, check the notice boards and talk to the staff and to other parents.

The Principal of your local primary school, or of a specialist school, is able to give you information about the schools your child may attend, how to enrol and what supports might be available. Additional support for indigenous families is available from the Department Education and Early Childhood Development and Catholic Education (See page 20 for contact details).

When you contact the Principal, ask for written information about the school and about the ways in which your child can be included in school programs.

How do I decide which school?

Many schools have open days, which provide a good way to see what is generally available. You should visit the schools you are considering enrolling your child in. Contact the school to arrange a mutually agreeable time to visit the school.

When choosing a school consider:

- Do you wish your child to attend the same school as brothers/sisters?
- Do you have a preferred option for educating your children?
- For example, in a Catholic or Independent school.
- What transport is available to access the school?
- If you have no preferred options, arrange appointments to visit the primary schools in your area to discuss what the school can offer your child.
- If you think a specialist school may suit your child, contact the Principal to ask about eligibility. Visit the school if you think it may be an option for your child.

For additional support in this selection process, consider visiting schools with a relative, friend or advocate. (See page 17 for more information on advocacy.)
What is important for my child’s education?

Before you visit schools, consider:

- What sort of things do you want for your child?
  - Making friends
  - Learning to read
  - Participating in social and creative activities.
- Is there a need for special equipment or additional professional help, for example, wheelchair access?
- Does your child need additional assistance for some activities, for example, to move from one place to another?

What should I ask when visiting a school?

You may wish to develop questions to take with you when you visit each school. A suggested list of questions can be found on page 23 of this booklet.

You may want to know:

About the School

- The size of the school and number and size of prep classes.
- Previous experiences with children with disabilities attending the school.
- Physical access if your child has a physical disability or visual impairment.

Programs and Supports that would be available

- How does the school plan for each child?

- How does the school provide support for children with additional needs within the classroom, the playground and during involvement with additional activities? (Excursions, camps, etc)

- What resources or programs are available in the school, For example: equipment, additional professional support, cross-age tutoring?

- What resources or programs could the school use or apply for if needed?

- What are the dates for enrolment and timelines for application for additional resources?
CHOOSING A SCHOOL

When you have gathered available information and visited possible schools, you may find one particular school is an obvious choice for your child. Alternatively, two or three schools may have attractive features.

Sometimes parents choose a combination of a specialist school and a local primary school (called dual enrolment).

Base your decision on your knowledge of your child and your family. Remember too that you are making the best decision at the time - you are not making a commitment for all of your child's school years. If the situation changes in later years, you may decide on a different option.

Once you have decided on a school, there are a number of steps to take. Remember the school will work with you to plan supports and programs for your child.
ENROLLING & PLANNING EDUCATIONAL SUPPORT
Government Primary and Specialist Schools

1. Contact the Principal
Contact the Principal of the school you have chosen and request that your child be enrolled.
Ask the Principal for a copy of the Program for Students with Disabilities Handbook and the Student Support Group Guidelines. This will give you information about how to make an application for additional support and the processes for planning, implementing and evaluating your child’s educational program.

The handbook can be viewed at: www.education.vic.gov.au/healthwellbeing/wellbeing/disability/

2. Application Student Support Group
In government schools, the Principal will arrange for an Application Student Support Group (SSG) to meet. This group will consist of:
- Parent(s) or guardian of the student
- Principal or nominee
- Parent advocate (if you choose to have one). The role of the advocate is to provide you with assistance and support.
- A person nominated by the Department Education and Early Childhood Development. The nominee’s role is to support the Principal and Student Support Group by acting as an impartial ‘critical friend’ during the completing of the application; to ensure that the Student Support Group is convened according to the guidelines; and that the application is complete, all necessary evidence demonstrating eligibility is included and that any attached reports are current, dated and signed prior to the application being signed by the nominee.

Professionals who have been providing a service to your child may be asked to join this group to provide important information about your child’s abilities and needs. The number and choice of consultants should be agreed by all members of the Student Support Group.
The role of this group is to:

- Carefully examine the evidence and determine whether an application under one of the seven categories of the Program for Students with Disabilities would be supported.
- Complete the Educational Needs Questionnaire by agreeing on a descriptor that best matches the student’s current level of education.
- Complete the Application Summary form.
- Complete the Students’ Education Program Summary Statement.
- Ensure all required documentation is attached.
- Sign the completed application.

Ask people who have been working with your child for written reports about his or her development and skills. Letters and/or assessment reports from your child’s doctor, paediatrician and/or therapist are also useful. You can pass copies of these reports on to the school.

Reports that are less than two years old can be used to support your application; older reports and letters that provide information about your child’s development are useful for gaining an understanding about your child and can support educational planning.

3. Submission of Application

You should make sure the application form is completed and that all relevant documentation is attached before you sign it. The completed application is sent to the Department of Education for consideration regarding the provision of additional support. The school will be advised of the outcome of the submission and it is their responsibility to advise parents/carers.
4. Student Support Group

This group is continued after the application for support regardless of the application’s outcome. The Student Support Group consists of:

- Parent(s), guardian or caregiver of the student.
- Parent advocate (where chosen by the parent).
- Class teacher.
- Principal or nominee (to act as chairperson)
- Student (where appropriate).

Consultation from professionals who have been providing services for your child is often very valuable to assist the Student Support Group plan educational goals and programs.

The Student Support Group will provide advice to the Principal and the school on the specific educational needs of your child and the best ways to meet those needs.

The Student Support Group will continue to support your child as they move through the school system. You and other members of the group will work together to plan, implement and evaluate an appropriate educational program to support the individual learning needs of your child.

NB: This group should identify what modifications or additions to buildings, grounds or equipment may be necessary for your child. The school can make application to DEECD Regional Office in August of the year prior to school entry, for consideration of such additional resources.
Catholic Schools – Sale Diocese

1. Contact the Principal
Contact the Principal of the school you have chosen and request that your child be enrolled.

For children with additional support needs
At this point, you might like to talk to the Principal again about the types of support, which may be available for your child.

2. Support Group
The Principal will arrange a support group meeting. The group will consist of:
- Principal
- Teacher
- Parent with support person if required

Other people who may be invited include professionals who have been providing a service to your child or other consultants including Catholic Education Office specialised personnel.

The role of the support group is to:
- Make decisions about the level of resources which may be needed for your child
- Identify any modifications to the environment.
- Identify equipment which will be needed.
- Identify therapy needs.
- Collect professional reports to support any submission for supplementary funding, equipment, modifications and/or therapy.

The Support Group will continue to meet as your child moves through the school system. Support Groups meet each term or when any member of the group requests a meeting.

Independent Schools

Independent schools usually have similar processes, and may have a support group to work together to identify the child’s abilities and educational needs and to plan suitable programs and supports. Ask the Principal of the school about the procedures.
Using an Advocate

You may wish to have a friend, relative, supportive community member or formal advocate assist you in planning and supporting your child’s transition to school.

The advocate may assist and support you to:

• Share your knowledge, skills and feelings within the Student Support Group;

• (The advocate can be useful as a reflective listener. They can remind you of anything you may have forgotten to ask and also help you remember what has been said during meetings. They may also be able to take notes for you.)

• Discuss any difficulties or uncertainties you experience in participating in the Student Support Group;

• Work collaboratively with the school community;

• Understand school procedures

• Link with relevant services and organisations.

Parent to Parent Gippsland can provide advocacy support for families with children with a disability/developmental delay. See page 19 for further information.
MAKING THE TRANSITION TO SCHOOL EASIER

There a number of ways for you to make the experience of going to school an exciting one for your child and for the family.

What can I do before my child starts school?
You may want to take some steps to make the move to school easier, for example:

- Ask the kindergarten/childcare service and the school what transition to school programs they are offering. Often schools invite all children who will start school the following year to visit at certain times during fourth term.

- Visit the school with your child. Ask the Principal for the best times to do this.

- Together with your kindergarten teacher/childcare worker and early childhood intervention worker(s):
  - discuss, plan and complete a Sharing our Journey plan for your child
  - complete a Transition Learning and Development Statement
  Ask your kindergarten/childcare service for a copy of Sharing our Journey and an example of the Transition Learning and Development Statement. You may also obtain a copy from:

- Provide permission for your child’s kindergarten teacher/childcare worker and early childhood intervention workers(s) to contact the school to discuss your child’s abilities and educational needs.

- Talk to your child about school.
What can I do when my child starts school?

• Help the school to understand your child by providing information such as your child’s:
  - likes and dislikes
  - communication methods
  - abilities and needs.

• Provide information to the teacher on your child’s disability/developmental delay and how it affects your child.

• Speak to the class teacher about what you would like said to other children or parents if they ask about your child. Tell the teacher what worked well for your child at kindergarten/childcare.

• Try to be involved with school activities. Involvement with the school is the best way of knowing what is happening and being able to assist staff with your child and with other children.

• Be prepared for change. As you child moves through school there will be changes of teachers, programs and possible supports available.

• Always contact the school if you have any concerns.

• Keep in touch with other parents. Parents are often the best source of information and mutual support.
PARENT SUPPORT NETWORKS

When a child moves from early childhood services into the school system, parents often find differences in their support networks.

Sometimes schools or school groups organise parent support networks as a means of giving parents information and opportunities for mutual support. Contact your local school for further information.
